WATER

Sydney Water is Australia's largest water utility. We provide drinking water, wastewater, recycled water and some stormwater services to over 4.7 million people in Sydney, the Illawarra and the Blue Mountains. Each day, we provide over one billion litres of drinking water to residential and business customers.

We are an active member of the Australian Water Association (AWA). We regularly collaborate with other water utilities on research and other projects to improve the Australian water industry.
